

Discover the art of botanical care through a green workshop in Milan

Milan · Lombardy

- Duration: 2 h
- Up to 8 people per booking
- Flowers and nature
- Free cancellation up to 48 hours before

Within Clinica Botanica's green space, this experience invites you to a practical, spontaneous, and far from contrived botanical workshop. Here, you'll get your hands dirty, laugh, repot plants, and truly learn how to care for them, all in a relaxed and convivial atmosphere in the heart of Milan.

Each workshop changes with the rhythm of the seasons: sometimes focusing on repotting, other times on plant support and care, experimenting with simple and accessible techniques even for those with no prior experience. Guided step-by-step, you will always take home a small potted plant and new practical knowledge to apply in your daily life.

A creative and natural experience designed for those who wish to experience Milan in a slower, greener, and more authentic way, sharing an afternoon different from the usual, surrounded by nature, hands-on activities, and people.
