Between Riomaggiore and Portovenere, set in a landscape you can only reach on foot, this experience invites you to discover a place where nature, history and winegrowing live together in perfect balance.

Accompanied by the estate's team, you will walk through the terraced vineyards, the rebuilt ancient stone walls and the winery's spaces, meeting along the way the animals that are part of the farm's ecosystem. The visit ends with a guided tasting of Stella di Lemmen's biodynamic wines, so you can understand how each glass tells the story of the character of this unique place overlooking the Ligurian Sea.

An experience designed for those who want to enjoy the Cinque Terre from a different perspective, discovering an agricultural project that puts respect for nature and the celebration of the local area at its heart.
